DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

> The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 2-5, 7, and 10-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claims 2-3, 10 recite the broad recitation "detachably attached, and the claim also recites "in particular bolted on" which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation. Similarly, claims 5, 13-15 recite the broad recitation "a pivot bearing", and the claim also recites "in particular a live ring" which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

3. In claim 7 and 20, the term "designed as" renders the claim indefinite as it is unclear if the element is actually as described or merely intended to be, during design, as described.

4. Regarding claims 4, 11-12, the phrase "preferably" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

> A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –
> (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
> (e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

6. Claims 1, 5-6, 9, 19 (as understood) are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Porubcansky et al. 6,588,521.

A mobile crane substructure with a crawler travel gear arrangement comprising a chassis frame 110 and four individual crawler travel gear elements 162, 164, 166, 168 which are held on bearings located on the chassis frame, wherein the chassis frame comprises two transverse through-girders 150,152, with one of the individual crawler gear elements being attached at each end of said transverse through-girders, and in the said chassis frame further comprises a center section of the frame, which center section interconnects the two transverse girders.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

> (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

9. Claims 2-4, 16-18, 20 (as understood) are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Porubcansky et al. in view of Carter et al. 4,386,673 or Cline et al. 4,014,400.

Porubcansky et al. discloses the claimed invention but uses a pin instead of bolts to attach the individual crawler gear elements to the transverse girders.

However, it is known in the art, as taught by Carter et al. or Cline et al., to use bolts instead of pins. Bolts allow a more secure connection due to the threaded connection.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Porubcansky et al. by using a bolted connection instead of pins, as taught by Carter et al. or Cline et al., in order to provide a more secure yet detachable connection between the elements and the girders.

10. Claims 10-15 (as understood) are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Porubcansky et al., as applied to claims 2-4 above, and further in view of Crabb 5,368,115.

Porubcansky et al., as modified above, discloses the claimed invention but does not specify how the girders are attached to the center section of the frame.

It is old and well known in the art, for example as taught by Crabb, to bolt vehicle frame parts together. Bolts are inexpensive, strong, and easy fasten parts together with.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to fasten the girders to the center section of the frame using bolts, in view of Crabb, in order to provide inexpensive, strong, and easy to fasten connections.

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claim 8 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited reference disclose tracked vehicle frames.
